Table of Contents for Volume 128

JANUARY 1992

Tenement Houses in Salem: A Report for the Bureau of Statistics of Labor, 1873
By Henry F. Bedford 3

Alexander Burton and Salem's "Fugitive Slave Riot" of 1851
By Gary L. Collison 17

John F. Hurley: Salem's First Hurrah
By Joan M. Maloney 27

APRIL 1992

Whittier and the Quaker "Argonauts"
By Roland L. Warren 67

JULY 1992

John Holliman: Eighteenth-Century Salem Stonecarver
By Theodore Chase and Laurel K. Gabel 147

"Enlightened Charity": William Bentley on Poor Relief in the Early Republic, 1783–1819
By Louise Chipley 162

Table of Contents for Volume 128

JANUARY 1992

Tenement Houses in Salem: A Report for the Bureau of Statistics of Labor, 1873
By Henry F. Bedford 3

Alexander Burton and Salem's "Fugitive Slave Riot" of 1851
By Gary L. Collison 17

John F. Hurley: Salem's First Hurrah
By Joan M. Maloney 27

APRIL 1992

Whittier and the Quaker "Argonauts"
By Roland L. Warren 67

JULY 1992

John Holliman: Eighteenth-Century Salem Stonecarver
By Theodore Chase and Laurel K. Gabel 147

"Enlightened Charity": William Bentley on Poor Relief in the Early Republic, 1783–1819
By Louise Chipley 162

Nil Desperandum Christo Duce: The New England Crusade against Louisbourg, 1745
By Francis D. Cogliano 180

OCTOBER 1992

The Salem Witch from Barbados: In Search of Tituba's Roots
By Elaine G. Beslaw 217

Indian Shamans and English Witches in Seventeenth-Century New England
By Alfred A. Cave 239

"Where Thieves Break Through and Steal": John Hale versus Dorcas Hoar, 1672–1692
By Barbara Ritter Dailey 255

The Salem Witchcraft Trials as a Crisis of Popular Imagination
By Richard P. Gildrie 270

Words, Witches, and Women Trouble: Witchcraft, Disorderly Speech, and Gender Boundaries in Puritan New England
By Jane Kamensky 286

Index to Volume 128 310